Legislative Assembly Election, 2016

Prime Minister's Visit to Iran

INDEX : (A) Chronological Order (B) Current Affairs Sections

1 May, 2016 to 31 May, 2016

Preface

Dear readers, we have started edristi English edition as well since August, 2015. We are hopeful that it will help us to connect to the broader audience and amplify our personal bonding with each other.

While presenting Day-to-day current affairs, we are very cautious on choosing the right topics to make sure only those get the place which are useful for competitive exams perspective, not to increase unnecessary burden on the readers by putting useless materials. Secondly, we have also provided the reference links to ensure its credibility which is our foremost priority. You can always refer the links to validate its authenticity.

We will try to present the current affairs topics as quickly as possible but its authenticity is given higher priority over its turnaround time. Therefore it could happen that we publish the incident one or two days later in the website.

Our plan will be to publish our monthly PDF on very first day of every month with making appropriate modifications of day-to-day events. In general, the events happened till 28th day will be given place in the PDFs. The necessity of this is to ensure the contents factual authenticity.

Reader's satisfaction is our utmost priority so requesting you to provide your valuable feedback to us. We will warmly welcome your appreciation/criticism given to us. It will surely show us the right direction to improve the content quality. Hopefully the current affairs PDF (from 1st MAY to 31st MAY) will benefit our beloved readers.

Current affairs data will be useless if it couldn't originate any competitive exam questions. E-Dristi has been very successful in that direction. Almost all the questions from UPPCS and other examinations have been asked from our materials. You can verify that by matching the question papers and e-Dristi contents from yourselves.

- (d) United Nations Population Fund

Ans:(a)

Related facts:

- On 18 May 2016 United Nations-Habitat programme launched the World Cities Report 2016, Urbanization and Development: Emerging Futures.
- According to this report there are top 600 cities, with 1/5th of the world's population producing 60 per cent of global GDP.
- The report says that unplanned and unmanaged urbanization leads toward increased inequality and this in turn fuels growth of slums, causing disastrous impacts on climate change.
- In 1995, there were 22 large cities and 14 megacities globally; by 2015, both categories of cities had doubled.
- 22 (79 per cent) of the megacities located in Latin America, Asia and Africa.
- The fastest growing urban centres are the medium and small cities with less than one million inhabitants, which account for 59 per cent of the world's urban population.

- Between 1950 and 2005, the level of urbanisation increased from 29 per cent to 49 per cent, while global carbon emissions from fossil-fuel burning increased by almost 500 per cent.
- Cities account for between 60 and 80 per cent of energy consumption, and generate as much as 70 per cent of the human-induced greenhouse gas emissions primarily through the consumption of fossil fuels for energy supply and transportation.
- The war in Syria has given rise to the largest humanitarian crisis since World War II.
- In 2015, more than 1.5 million forced migrants and refugees arrived in Europe compared to 280,000 in 2014.
- The United Nations Conference on Housing and Sustainable Urban Development, “Habitat III” will take place in Quito, Ecuador, in October 2016.
- The report calls for a comprehensive approach to the New Urban Agenda which will be vital to success in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals as set out in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

Renewable energy country attractiveness index-2016

Question: What is the rank of India in recently releases Renewable energy country attractiveness index 2016?

- a.Third
- b.Second
- c .Fourth
- d.Fifth

Ans: (a)

Related facts:

- On 10 May 2016 Global organization Ernst & Young(EY) has released the Renewable energy country attractiveness index 2016.
- The report included 40 countries on the attractiveness of their renewable energy investment and deployment opportunities based on a number of indicators.
- The emerging markets now represent half of the countries in the 40-strong index, including four African markets featuring in the top 30.
- India is ranked at 3rd position while the index was topped by the United States (US) followed by China at 2nd position.
- Countries like Chile are at 4th position, Brazil at 6th position and Mexico at 7th position climbed higher in the index top 10.
- While Germany and France fell in the ranking to 5th and 8th position respectively.
- India's position is thanks to the strong focus of the government on renewable energy as well as timely implementation of renewable energy projects.
- The report also suggests that with the growing number of jurisdictions contracting utility-scale renewable energy through competitive auction processes, renewable energy is increasingly proving its mettle against conventional energy generation.
- Argentina is the highest-scoring new entrant in the index. The transformation of the country's economy brought it into the index in 18th position.
- Brazil's renewable sector is showing surprising resilience amid an economic downturn and its underdeveloped solar market remains a potentially lucrative lure.
- Mexico's recent power auctions have opened the door to multi-billion dollar opportunities under a new liberalised energy market.
- The report also highlights Chile as one of the first markets to enable economically viable renewable projects to compete directly with all other energy sources.
- The index ranks 40 markets on the attractiveness of their renewable energy investment and deployment opportunities, based on a number of macro, energy market and technology-specific indicators.
- The methodology has been refreshed in the May edition to reflect greater focus on energy imperative, policy stability and routes to market.

United Nations Multi-Partner Trust Fund Launched

Question: For which of the following virus United Nations has launched the Multi-Partner trust fund?

- (a) Zika virus
- (b) Retro virus
- (c) Japanese encephalitis
- (d) None of the above

Ans: (a)

Related facts:

- On 6 May 2016 United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon announced the establishment of the UN Zika Response Multi-Partner Trust Fund (MPTF) to finance critical unfunded priorities in the response to the Zika outbreak.
- The Trust Fund aims at providing a rapid, flexible and accountable platform to support a coordinated response from the United Nations system and partners.
- MPTF will directly support the Zika Strategic Response Framework.
- Zika Strategic Response Framework is developed by the World Health Organization (WHO) in consultation with UN agencies, partners and international epidemiological experts.
- This fund will act as a central point for the Donors.
- An Advisory Committee will direct funds to the highest-priority activities in the affected countries.
- Since 1 January 2015, 61 countries and territories have reported local transmission of Zika virus.
- Zika virus disease is caused by a virus transmitted primarily by Aedes mosquitoes.
- The recent rise in the spread of Zika virus in some countries has been accompanied by an unprecedented rise in the number of children being born with unusually small heads — identified as microcephaly.

- Several countries have also reported an increase in Guillain-Barre syndrome — a neurological disorder that can lead to paralysis and death.
- There is now scientific consensus that Zika virus is linked to severe foetal malformations and serious disorders of the central nervous system and is a cause of microcephaly and Guillain-Barre syndrome.
- On 1 February 2016, the WHO announced that the cluster of cases of microcephaly and other neurological disorders, in particular Guillain-Barre syndrome, constituted a Public Health Emergency of International Concern.
- The Zika Strategic Response Framework aims to investigate and respond to the cluster of microcephaly and other neurological complications linked to Zika virus, increase preventive measures, communicate risks and provide care and support to those affected.
- It is notable that Microcephaly is a medical condition in which the brain does not develop properly resulting in a smaller than normal head.

Question: From where did the ISRO successfully flight tested India's first Reusable Launch Vehicle-Technology Demonstrator (RLV-TD)?

- (a) Satish Dhawan Space Centre, Sriharikota
- (b) Integrated test centre, Chandipur
- (c) Dr. A. P. J. Abdul Kalam Island, Balasore
- (d) ISRO Satellite Centre, Bangluru

Ans (a)

Related facts:

- On 23 May 2016 Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) successfully flight tested India's first Reusable Launch Vehicle-Technology Demonstrator (RLV-TD) from the First Launch Pad at Satish Dhawan Space Centre, Sriharikota.
- The double delta-winged flight vehicle RLV Technology Demonstrator (RLV-TD) was hoisted into the atmosphere on the special rocket booster for a peak altitude of over 65 km and released for its re-entry into the atmosphere before its splashdown in the Bay of Bengal.
- From a 65 km altitude, RLV-TD began its descent followed by atmospheric re-entry at around Mach 5 (five times the speed of sound).
- RLV-TD successfully glided down to the defined landing spot over Bay of Bengal, at a distance of about 450km from Sriharikota.
- The 6.5 metre-long scale model of the re-usable launch vehicle weighs about 1.75 tonnes and was made at a cost of Rs. 95 crore.
- It was built at the Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre in Thiruvananthapuram by a team of 600 scientists over five years.
- The RLV-TD is described as "a very preliminary step" in the development of a reusable rocket, whose final version is expected to take 10-15 years.
- Re-usable technology aims to help reduce the cost of launching objects into space by 10 times.
- In this flight, critical technologies such as autonomous navigation, guidance & control, reusable thermal protection system and re-entry mission management have been successfully validated.

'HoloFlex' world's first holographic flexible smartphone

Question: Which of the following institute have developed 'HoloFlex' world's first holographic flexible smartphone?

- (a) Queen's University
- (b) Harvard University
- (c) Stanford University
- (d) Cambridge University

Ans (a)

Related facts:

- On 5 May 2016 researchers at the Human Media Lab at Queen's University of Canada have developed 'HoloFlex' the world's first holographic flexible smartphone.
- The phone is capable of rendering 3D images with motion parallax and stereoscopy to multiple simultaneous users without head tracking or glasses.
- It features a 1920x1080 full high-definition Flexible Organic Light Emitting Diode (FOLED) touchscreen display.
- Images are rendered into 12-pixel wide circular blocks rendering the full view of the 3D object from a particular viewpoint.
- HoloFlex is equipped with a bend sensor.
- The resulting 160 x 104 resolution image allows users to inspect a 3D object from any angle simply by rotating the phone.
- HoloFlex is powered by a 1.5 GHz Qualcomm Snapdragon 810 processor and 2 GB of memory.
- It runs on Android 5.1 and includes an Adreno 430 GPU supporting OpenGL 3.1.
- Researchers unveiled HoloFlex in San Jose, California at the top conference in Human-Computer Interaction, ACM CHI 2016, on 9 May 2016.
- The Human Media Lab (HML) at Queen's University is one of Canada's premier Human-Computer Interaction (HCI) laboratories.
- This research was support by Immersion Canada Inc. and the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC).

Prithvi-II missile test fired

Question: On 18 May 2016 India successfully test-fired it's indigenously developed nuclear capable Prithvi-II missile from a test range at Chandipur in Odisha. It is a-

- (a) Surface-to-Air missile
- (b) Air-to-Surface missile
- (c) Surface-to-Surface missile
- (d) Air to Air missile

Ans: (c)

Related facts:

- On 18 May 2016 India successfully test-fired it's indigenously developed nuclear capable Prithvi-II missile as part of a user trial by the army from a test range at Chandipur in Odisha.
- The trial of the surface-to-surface missile was carried out from a mobile launcher from launch complex-3 of the Integrated Test Range (ITR).
- The entire launch activities were carried out by the specially formed strategic force command (SFC) and monitored by the scientists of Defense Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) as part of training exercise.
- It has a strike range of 350 km and is capable of carrying 500 kg to 1,000 kg of warheads.
- Prithvi-II was inducted into Indian armed forces in 2003, the nine-meter-tall; single-stage liquid-fueled missile is powered by liquid propulsion twin engines.
 - The last user trial of Prithvi-II was successfully conducted on February 16, 2016 from the same test range in Odisha.

Kepler Mission Announces Largest Collection of Planets Ever Discovered

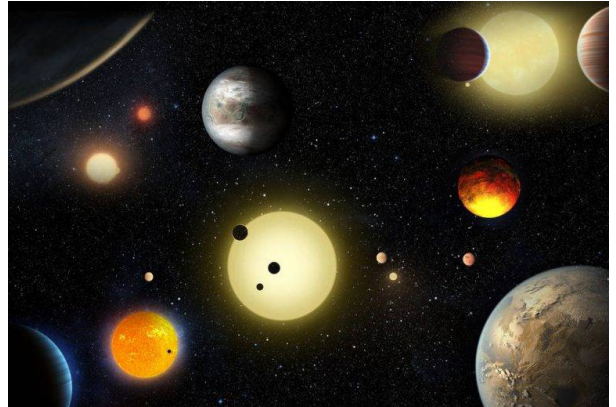

Question: Under which of the following mission of NASA the largest collection of exoplanets (Trove) ever were discovered ?

- (a) Lunar Orbiter-1
- (b) Kepler
- (c) Pioneer-1
- (d) Hubble Space Telescope

Ans: (b)

Related facts:

- On 10 May 2016 NASA's Kepler mission has announced the largest collection of exoplanets ever discovered.
- NASA's Kepler mission has verified 1,284 new planets – the single largest finding of planets to date this is more than doubles the number of confirmed planets from Kepler.
- The mission was launched in March 2009; Kepler is the first NASA mission to find potentially habitable Earth-size planets.
- This discovery has given hope that they may eventually discover another Earth-like planet that could harbour life.
- Of the 1,284 discovered, nearly 550 could be rocky planets like Earth, based on their size.

Shyam Benegal Committee report

Question: Recently Shyam Benegal Committee submitted its report on Cinematograph Act/ Rules to Union Minister of Information & Broadcasting, Arun Jaitley. The committee was set up on-

- (a) 1 February 2016
- (b) 1 January 2016
- (c) 25 January 2016
- (d) 15 February 2016

Ans (b)

Related facts:

- On 29 April 2016 Shyam Benegal Committee submitted its report on Cinematograph Act/ Rules to Union Minister of Information & Broadcasting, Arun Jaitley.
- It may be recalled that the committee was set up on 1 January 2016.
- It was set up to lay down norms for film certification that take note of best practices in various parts of the world and give sufficient and adequate space for artistic and creative expression, lay down procedures and guidelines for the benefit of the CBFC Board to follow and examine staffing patterns with a view to recommending a framework that would provide efficient and transparent user friendly services.
- Following are the major highlights of the report –
- CBFC should only be a film certification body whose scope should be restricted to categorizing the suitability of the film to audience groups on the basis of age and maturity except in the following instances to refuse certification–
- When a film contains anything that contravenes the provisions of Section 5B (1) of the Cinematograph Act, 1952.
- When content in a film crosses the ceiling laid down in the highest category of certification.
- The applicant must specify the category of certification being sought and the target audience.

- The objective of these guidelines would be to ensure that –
 1. Children and adults are protected from potentially harmful or unsuitable content
 2. Audiences, particularly parents are empowered to make informed viewing decisions
 3. Artistic expression and creative freedom are not unduly curbed in the process of classification of films
 4. The process of certification by CBFC is responsive, at all times, to social change
 5. The certification by CBFC keeps within the rights and obligations as laid down in the Indian Constitution.
- The Highlights of the recommendations of the committee broadly cover the areas related to Film Certification Process and its simplification, Restructuring staffing pattern of Central & Regional censor advisory panels and Recertification of films for purposes of telecast on television and measures to preserve the identity of Indian Cinema.
- The committee has also made certain recommendations regarding the functioning of the board and has stated that the Board.
- This includes, Chairman should only play the role of a guiding mechanism for the CBFC, and not be involved in the day-to-day affairs of certification of films and
- The size of the Board should be compact with one member representing each Regional Office. Therefore, the total composition of the Board should not be more than nine members and one Chairman.
